Once upon a time...

—→ Education started like this many many years ago. Time has passed and the world has gone through many difficulties. Wars and illnesses have nearly brought its end. But mankind has learned the importance of life.

And now it is like this ;

As you can see there has been some changes. For example nowadays a lot of students has tablets to help them for their studies.

Now lets talk about how future classes will be in our views:

We still believe that education will and also should go on in schools, where teachers will be mentors at school and there might also be robots which will help students during their researches.

Students desks will be like a screen where they can make their researches, take their notes, do their experiments and work and 3D views. There will be every kind of lab for each lesson, as no longer learning from books but learning through experiments will be the main point.
